National Methamphetamine Awareness Day November 30, 2006 Free Review Copies of Meth Pamphlets Available from Journeyworks

November 2006—The Department of Justice will sponsor National Methamphetamine Awareness Day on November 30 to promote awareness about the damaging effects of meth abuse on individuals, families and communities. Event partners include a wide range of government, non-profit and community based organizations.

Journeyworks offers two informative and easy to read titles that can be used by programs and organizations participating in this national event.

How Meth Affects Your Brain...And the Rest of Your Body and 45 Scary But True Facts About Meth alert readers to the many harmful physical (and mental) consequences of using methamphetamine, and include strong prevention messages as well as valuable information on how to seek help to stop using meth.

View these pamphlets online at <http://www.journeyworks.com/products.asp?dept=48>.
